No pen can fittingly portray the wreck, the ruin, the awful desolation that marks its pathway from where its waters rose to the gateway of the state on the East. No imagination, however vivid, can picture the scene. For several days preceding the mad rush of waters tornadoes and hail storms passed over Salina in quick succession doing more or less damage. On the 20th of May two small tornadoes passed over the South-west part of the county, uprooting trees and destroying houses, barns and sheds. The next day another tornado passed over the South part of the county, mowing a path on each side of the river and falling with special force on the little village of Assaria. Several persons were injured and some lives were lost. Much property was destroyed and several bridges swept away. On the 22nd the most destructive hail in the history of Saline county fell; some of the stones weighing ten and twelve ounces. Heavy wind followed. Houses were blown down and from their foundations and otherwise injured. Crops were badly damaged. The same night Brookville was visited by a tornado followed by rain. Heavy rains now became a daily occurrence. SALINA. On the 25th of May heavy rains fell at Salina and vicinity. The sewers were unable to carry off the water. The streets were flooded and cellars filled with water. May 26 the waters of Dry Creek and Mulberry Creek were out of their banks and, meeting, flooded...
