Just as the vulgar Briton becomes an intolerable nuisance the moment he lands on the Continent, so did Mr. Johnson distinguish himself upon going on board an Atlantic steamer if any Englishmen were amongst the passengers. He then developed into a noisy, pretentious and self-asserting personage. His delight was to declaim against the effete monarchies of the Old World. He was copious with facts in support of his assertions and, being grossly ignorant of history, most of his facts were blunders. If corrected by any English listener, his habit was to inquire of him, Say, Sir, have you read the Constitution of the United States? Should the reply be in the negative, he would retort, Then I cannot argue with you till you do. One afternoon in the smoking-room of the White Star steamer Britannie, he was talking in his wonted...
