Brandon Publishing. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 124 pages. Dimensions: 8.0in. x 5.0in. x 0.3in. (October 22, 2013) Based on personal and professional experiences, Who stole my bike: And 20 Other Questions Young Professionals Need to Ask Themselves is designed to engage, empower and enlighten people while helping them discover the great potential that lies within. Nothing more, nothing less! This series of questions focuses on life and leadership, birthed from the belief that when approached with logic, many of lifes critical issues are tied to a question that follows. Focusing on this fundamental truth, readers will proclaim their rightful place in their lives, their families, their church, and their community. This book will encourage you to embrace the person you are, the people around you, and your potential. These foundational principles are at the core of any relationship we have or decision we will ever make. In all we do, it is essential that we take a vital look at the person we are, the people we surround ourselves with, and our God-given potential. No matter our race, sex, age, background, or religious belief, there comes a time when we each must look within ourselves and develop a personal manifesto to make a difference. Our future can only be predicted if we create it. Ask yourself these questions and change how your story ends. This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg,OR, La Vergne,TN. Paperback.
